

Wholesale Retail

When considering the management of your business

Would it be helpful

To be able to offer goods to the public as well as wholesale to improve margins and cash flow?

When considering managing your inventory

Would it be helpful

To be able to locate any item directly and immediately anywhere in the warehouse – with any staff member?

When considering reordering

Would it be helpful

To be able to predict sales performance by location based on transaction history and then order online?

Management 2000 supports integrated retail/wholesale plus RF warehouse and electronic ordering

Cash is critical to our ability to survive as a business, and many trading organisations are opening up additional channels to improve margins and cashflow. Most accounting applications don't support retail or cash management and that is where Management 2000 is different. It was designed to look after the three key assets of the business; Cash, Customers and Stock – not accounts.

What does Management 2000 offer?

- Full Multichannel integration –whatever way you want to sell, Management 2000 is there
 - Web shop support – (IWS recommended)
 - Full retail support including multiple sites and integrated eftpos
 - Telephone/Mail order sales
 - Wholesale ordering and fulfilment
- Paperless is possible
 - Telephone / Mail order / Wholesale orders can be taken
 - Inventory allocated (reservations honoured) online from available/on order
 - Payment via charge account, credit card, eftpos, cash, cheque, voucher
 - Radio Frequency warehouse picking and electronic completion of orders
 - Already paid invoice and delivery docket are the first piece of paper generated
 - Full management of processes and order enquiry by status, part picked, etc
- RF warehousing is supported
 - Warehouse staff are costly and good ones are scarcer than hen's teeth
 - Use any terminal or handheld to locate that widget thus bypassing skills and experience
 - Is one available/on order so I can pinch a committed one for an emergency
 - Can I pick it immediately – place a priority order or grab it and update the system later
 - Can I pick multiple orders in one pass of the warehouse and get it right

Management 2000 is the YES option. YES I can do what I want to do. YES I CAN do what I want to do.

- Can I trust new staff to put new arrivals in the right place
- Can I do a stocktake of part of the warehouse
- Management 2000 ordering and stock control
 - Support a central warehouse and branch warehouses or retail outlets
 - Replenish movements from central stock thus minimising investment
 - Reorder for branch warehouses and/or retail if direct delivery reduces costs
 - Colour/Size, Pack sizes, Min Order quantities supported
 - Simple assemblies and Kits including outsourcing of the assembly
 - Integration to Telecom InfoXchange for online ordering and supply from your suppliers

Multichannel offers a lower cost operation, more correct stock based on the facts from all of your operations, and integration of all productive business information into a single interface accessed from anywhere in the world.
